BRITAIN NEEDS
MORE MONEY,
CALLS ON U. S.CHURCHILL CHARGES
FIRST LOAN WAS FRITTERED AWAY

BY ARTHUR GAVSHON

Woodstock, England, Aug. 4 (AP)—Winston Churchill offered today to support the labor government in an appeal to the United States for a new loan on condition that Britons "labor long and hard" to help themselves.

In a party speech the conservative leader charged that Prime Minister Attlee's government had "frittered away" a great part of the present American loan of $3,750,000,000 on non-essentials.

Churchill also scoffed at what he called the "folly" of proposals for a coalition government to meet Britain's economic crisis, despite his offer of support to the Labor cabinet for "any and all sensible proposals, however severe, that are truly made in the national interest."

Coal Costs Up
Referring to the problem of coal production, a key factor in the nation's present crisis, Churchill declared that, since the nationalization of the mines, the miners "are producing less at a far heavier cost than when they were working for the private capitalist owner, with his more intimate and flexible management."

Declaring the "foundation of British policy must be an even closer association with the United States," Churchill said:

"I have never asked at any time, or suggested, an alliance. I want something more than that. We must seek something less precise and far more potent."

"The whole English speaking world must move forward together in fraternal association along the lines of destiny. This will be the greatest hope of peace among nations and of the freedom and dignity of ordinary men and women over the largest portion of the globe."

Churchill said some of the terms of the present American loan alarmed him, notably the clauses requiring Britain to make her sterling debts to other countries freely convertible into dollars by last July 15 and that requiring non-discrimination against the United States in the reduction of imports.

Must Be Self-Supporting
"However, I relied, and I rely now, on the wisdom of the fair-minded American people to make the necessary easements," Churchill said.

He said a large part of the dollar drain was due to rising prices in the United States and added:

"That is an aspect which I am sure the United States ought and will take into consideration."

"There is no shame in one brave and faithful ally, deeply injured in the common struggle, asking another to help him recover and stand upon his feet," Churchill said.

"Had the positions been reversed, we would have done the same for them."

"Therefore I supported the American loan and I will still support and justify further appeals to the United States provided that we are doing our best, that we are making the most of our resources, that we are determined to become a self-supporting nation and system at the earliest moment and will put aside every impediment and labor long and hard." ***

Russian Proposals
For Balkan Peace
Turned Down In U. N.

BY LARRY HAUCK

Lake Success, Aug. 4 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council late today rejected without debate a Russian counter-proposal for peace in the Balkans and then argued over what to do next.

The vote on the Soviet resolution, calling for withdrawal of foreign troops from Greece and U. N. supervision of economic aid to that country, was 9 to 2 with Poland the only Russian supporter.

The council's slate thus was cleared of the second major proposal for settling the Balkan troubles, Russia having vetoed a United States plan for a semi-permanent Balkans commission last week.

Poland immediately offered a "compromise" which took all the teeth out of both the American and Russian versions and merely recommended that Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria solve their own difficulties.

Britain and the United States assailed the Polish plan as ineffective and an admission of the failure of the council.

American deputy delegate Herschel V. Johnson was especially bitter, questioning how Polish delegate Oscar Lange could offer such a resolution after voting with the Russians and against the Americans. Johnson said Lange had made it clear that he felt Greece was entirely at fault and the Soviet satellites were being "menaced by this Fascist wolf."

Chairman Farris el Khoury of Syria adjourned the meeting with no agreement on the Balkans in sight and announced that Egypt's charges against Britain would be taken up at 9:30 a. m. (CDT) tomorrow. Cairo demands the evacuation of the British regime in the Sudan.

YOUTH TO DENY
KILLING FATHERDetroit Boy, 17, Carries
Prayer Book, Holds
Back His Story

Detroit, Aug. 4 (AP)—A 'teen-aged boy, a prayer book in his hand and a self-imposed seal on his lips, surrendered today in the robbery-slaying of his father.

Edward Small, 17, accompanied by an attorney, walked into the Wayne county prosecutor's office to end a nation-wide man-hunt that began June 4 when the beaten body of John C. Small, 52-year-old tavern keeper, was found in suburban Detroit.

Leonard F. Donaldson, the boy's attorney, said young Small would deny any part in the slaying and would blame the actual killing on a 16-year-old companion, William Hungerford, now facing a charge of murder.

Donaldson told officers: "Edward will deny he killed his father. I have talked to him and I believe him. He said his father was killed by William Hungerford."

Donaldson said he was told by Small that the two boys had been drinking when they went riding with the elder Small June 3 and that Edward passed away.

"When he came to, Hungerford told him his father was dead," the attorney continued.

He said small and Hungerford split several hundred dollars that the tavern-keeper carried, threw his body into River Rouge and fled the state in his car, which they later abandoned.

Fine Handed Out
To Reckless Flier
At Owosso, Mich.

Owosso, Mich., Aug. 4 (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Adelbert Owens today was fined $100 and sentenced to spend three days in the Shiawassee county jail after he pleaded guilty to reckless flying.

The court also suspended a 20-day jail sentence when Owens admitted flying his plane lower than 500 feet.

The complainant, George Bradley, of Durand, said Owens was flying so low that he feared the plane would hit an automobile he was driving on M-71 east of Cornua.

Owens testified he was following Carman Johnson, Owosso, who had made a parachute jump from the plane.

Bride Breaks Down
At Psalm Singing;
Admits Death Lure

Las Vegas, Nev., Aug. 4 (AP)—An attractive, 21-year-old Connecticut bride, crying "I want to make my peace with the Lord," broke down during a Psalm-singing jail service and, Sheriff Glen Jones announced today, acknowledged that she and her husband of four days lured a California business man to his death in an isolated forest glen.

Jailed for Nevada County, Calif., where a murder charge was filed, were Joseph L. Hardy, Jr., 24, of North Kittery, Me., and the blonde former Lois Hunt, a native of New London, Conn., and until recently a waitress in a Portsmouth, N. H., tea shop.

"People have always taken me for a sweet, innocent little girl," Sheriff Glen Jones quoted her in one of three signed statements. "If only they knew how I am on the inside, they would sing a different tune."

PAID HIS SHARE,
ELLIOTT CLAIMSYoung Roosevelt Said He Feared Smear Campaign
Against His Father

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—Elliott Roosevelt testified today that "I paid my own fair share" of costly entertainment with John W. Meyer, contact man for plane designer Howard Hughes.

He gave the senate investigating committee his opinion that "my conduct did not violate" an air forces directive cautioning officers against "relationships of a compromising character" with war contractors.

And he related that he had feared a "smear" campaign against his father, the late President Roosevelt, would grow out of his recall from overseas in 1943 to advise on war plane purchases.

Elliott recommended a Hughes-designed photo-reconnaissance plane, Hughes got a $22,000,000 contract to build them, the contract was considered for cancellation but was left in force. The deal never produced any planes that got into the war.

The late president's second son, Ex-Brigadier General and formerly in charge of photo reconnaissance work in the European theatre, made these other points in a full afternoon of questioning before the committee, which is looking into the Hughes contract and another $18,000,000 deal for Hughes to build a huge flying boat.

He once borrowed $1,000 from Meyer—a couple of days before his marriage to actress Faye Emerson—but he paid it back in five months with six percent interest for a full year.

DISPUTE OVER
TAFT-HARTLEY
BILL SETTLEDFORD PRODUCTION
WORKERS CALL
OFF WALKOUT

Detroit, Aug. 4 (AP)—Hard-pressed negotiators returned to a session at 10:50 o'clock (Eastern standard time) tonight to try and wrap up an agreement to avert tomorrow's nationwide strike of 107,000 Ford Motor Co. production workers.

Remaining to be ironed out were details of a joint statement announcing an agreement reached earlier in the evening between negotiators for the company and the CIO United Auto Workers.

This agreement, authoritative sources said, embraced a settlement of the union's demand for immunity from penalty provisions of the Taft-Hartley labor act and a plan for adjusting differences over a workers' pension setup.

Strike Is Off
The joint statement previously had been prepared by a representative of each side and copies distributed among the negotiators.

Union sources said the UAW approved it with "one minor revision."

Informed sources said machinery for settling a pension plan dispute would be provided in the agreement.

Despite the present agreement UAW Vice President Richard T. Leonard said the union would maintain its strike threat.

A strike tomorrow, however, is off, Leonard said.

Leonard, chairman of the UAW Ford department and a chief union negotiator, said the Taft-Hartley agreement had only set back a strike deadline.

"As long as we are still negotiating, we won't definitely call off the strike," he told reporters.

This was a reference to negotiation of the pension plan.

Earlier authoritative sources close to negotiators said the company and CIO United Auto Workers heads had come to an understanding in their dispute involving the Taft-Hartley law.

"It's only a question now of preparing a joint statement," an official union spokesman said at 5:30 p. m. (CDT).

CHICAGO KIDNAP
VICTIM BURIEDSex Criminal Indicted
For Strangulation Of
Charles Bradley, 3

Chicago, Aug. 4 (AP)—Three-year-old Charles Bradley was buried today and a few hours later Joseph Bortnyak, 27, convicted sex criminal was indicted on a charge of murdering the child by strangulation.

Friends, neighbors and sympathizers crowded into Our Lady of Vilna Roman Catholic church on the south side as the mass of the angels was sung for the tiny slaying victim. Four of Charles' young playmates were pallbearers.

After the funeral, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bradley, the child's parents, went to the grand jury room for Bortnyak's hearing. Palefaced after the ordeal of burying their only child, they clung to each other for support.

The Cook county August grand jury returned the indictment after a hearing of scarcely more than an hour. Chief Justice Harold G. Ward scheduled Bortnyak's arraignment for tomorrow morning.

The indictment specified that no bond should be set on the slayer.

Among those who testified was Bradley, who was seated on the back steps of his apartment when his son was abducted from his bed last week and carried away to his death. Mrs. Bradley, who was at her night job at a neighborhood factory when Charles was abducted, was not called upon to testify.

State's Attorney William J. Tuohy said earlier the state would seek the death penalty for Bortnyak.

Bombshell Plane
Turns Back From Round-World Hop

Chicago, Aug. 4 (AP)—William (Bill) Odom, Roslyn, N. Y., pilot, who left Chicago's Orchard airport at 2:31 p. m. Central Daylight Time today on an attempted solo round-the-world flight landed his plane, the Reynolds Bombshell, here at 11:55 p. m. Central Daylight time tonight. He had turned back shortly after passing over Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Odom said he turned back when he reached the Bay of Fundy, Nova Scotia, because he had difficulty with his ailerons which control the horizontal motion of the plane. He said he had covered approximately one-sixth of the distance of his world hop.

TRUMAN SIGNS
20 OF 78 BILLSArmy Flier Appointed
Assistant Secretary
Of Aeronautics

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—President Truman today named John R. Allison of Gainesville, Fla., who downed six Japanese planes while an Army flier, to be assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics.

Returning to a work-filled desk after a week-end at "Shangri-La," presidential retreat in Maryland, Mr. Truman signed 20 of the 78 bills left over from the recently adjourned Congress and disposed of two others, of minor nature, by pocket veto by simply not signing them.

One bill enacted with the presidential signature raises the rehabilitation allowance for disabled veterans.

Another adopts the Federal mine safety code for bituminous and lignite mines in interstate commerce. This code, which John L. Lewis won in his coal contract for the United Mine Workers, would apply the same federal rules to all mines rather than leave them subject to the varying state safety laws alone.

Allison's appointment to the commerce department post will be subject to confirmation later by the Senate. "Assistant secretary for aeronautics" is a new title, soon to be ordered in accordance with a new law giving commerce two assistant secretaries.

Programs Of Crop
Insurance Mapped
At Chicago Session

Chicago, Aug. 4 (AP)—Directors of crop insurance programs in 20 states met today with officials of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation to plan next year's curtailed program.

G. F. Geissler, director of the corporation, said legislation passed in the closing days of Congress required that the crop insurance program be cut from 1,424 to 200 counties. Decision as to what counties will be retained will be made in Washington next week by the corporation's board of directors.

Geissler added, however, that the current meeting, which will end tomorrow night, will present recommendations as to the retention or dropping of counties from the program.

Congress, in the closing days of the session, voted $5,000,000 for the operation of the FCIC. The insurance is limited to wheat, cotton, corn, flax and tobacco.

Youths Get $5,200
In Haifa Robbery;
Kill Bank Official

Jerusalem, Aug. 4 (AP)—Seven youths and a girl, whom police identified as Jews, killed a Jewish bank official in a Haifa hold-up today, wounded the bank's Jewish manager and fled with $5,200.

Later in the day, the British army moved in on the Jewish colony of Givat Shaul in the Jerusalem area and blew to bits a building where troops had found three days ago a large cache of illegal arms, ammunition, and raw materials for bombs. A law enacted last week authorized the razing of buildings used for underground purposes.

DUTCH TROOPS AND NATIVES
CEASE FIRINGPEACE ORDERS ARE BIG VICTORY FOR
U. N. COUNCIL

BY STANLEY SWINTON

Batavia, Java, Tuesday, Aug. 5 (AP)—The republic of Indonesia issued a cease-fire order to its troops last night, paralleling a similar Dutch order Sunday.

The orders, giving the United Nations Security Council its greatest victory for peace, became effective at midnight.

Indonesian President Soekarno, in a brief radio speech, ordered the whole Indonesian population to halt hostilities against the Dutch. He addressed Republican troops as commander in chief and also told the civil population to cease guerrilla and scorched earth tactics.

The commands to stop fighting found Dutch forces at Salatiga, Java, in a position which their staff officers declared would have enabled them to capture Jogjakarta, the republican capital, within two or three days. Skirmishes were under way at many points throughout the East Indies yesterday as the deadline for the truce approached.

Mediation Terms Revised

Earlier republican Premier Amir Sjarifoeddin said the cease-fire order was being issued "without any reservations at all." He quickly added the republic would demand appointment of an international commission by the U. N. to supervise the cease-fire orders.

Sjarifoeddin told the U. N. that the Dutch had delayed transmission of the Security Council message, making it difficult to achieve cessation of hostilities on short notice.

The premier's demand for an international commission was interpreted as meaning the republic did not favor the tendered United States offer of mediation which the Dutch have accepted.

Sjarifoeddin said the commission should see that carrying out the cease-fire orders included release of imprisoned Indonesian youths, restoration of republican officials to their positions, return of troops on both sides to the demarcation line existing at the time hostilities started (July 20), cessation of hostile propaganda, and cessation of attempts to sponsor any separatist movement which would break areas away from the republic.

Inhabitants Starving
He said the Dutch had issued their cease-fire "with qualifications," since they had declared they intended to continue "clearing actions."

(A Netherlands government spokesman at the Hague said that, if the Indonesian troops did not respect the cease-fire order, the Dutch would defend themselves vigorously.)

The Dutch order Sunday was issued by Hubertus J. Van Mook, acting governor-general in the Indies. Before the deadline was reached, however, a Dutch army spokesman announced that Dutch forces had landed on Madoera, the island off the east coast of Java. Under the Cheribon agreement, the island, which has a population of more than 1,000,000, was to be included in the Indonesian republic.

A previous announcement by the Dutch army had said the inhabitants were in a starving condition as a result of being cut off from Java and that Netherlands forces had taken "safety measures on the island" at the request of the population.

Commenting on this communication, the spokesman said that "naturally we must have Dutch units there, or such measures could not be carried out." The army said large shipments of rice were being sent to Madoera.

In Air, Says Editor

Urbana, Ill., Aug. 4 (AP)—If the curve of American air power "is held up there will be peace in our time," Gill Robb Wilson, aviation editor of the New York Herald-Tribune, said tonight.

Wilson addressed 1,500 delegates to the field day dinner of a group of flying farmers who flew to the University of Illinois in 750 privately owned planes from points in Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Col. Floyd Evans, director of aeronautics for the State of Michigan, invited the group to hold its 1948 field day in Michigan. Detroit and Ann Arbor were mentioned as possible sites for the field day.

Building In Escanaba At All-Time Peak; $340,000 Added So Far This Year

Building in Escanaba has reached its all-time peak in the years of 1946 and 1947, a recent survey has indicated. According to those who should know—those in construction work and selling of material—the trend will continue for at least another year.

Chief impediment to full time construction is a shortage of skilled laborers for the jobs. Approximately 35 houses are in construction now. To date this year about 90 have been built. If more carpenters, electricians and plumbers had been available, the total houses completed would come well over the 100 mark by September.

Through July of this year some $340,000 has been spent for construction of new buildings, remodeling and repairing. At this time last year the figure stood at $311,540.

Several new business establishments, warehouses and tourist cabin projects are now under way. Hoyler and Rauer is building a new processing plant on Ludington street; Herbert Flath is building for Mrs. William and Donald Lemire a $20,000 clinic, and Flath's store in the 1300 block of Ludington is nearly completed. The City of Escanaba has begun construction of an auxiliary steam plant addition.

The majority of the new houses being built are located on the South side, west of 14th street. Among those constructing dwellings are John and Jules DeGrand, Floyd Duchaine and Ben Yagodzinski.

The houses range in cost and style; most of them are, however, four to five room modern houses costing from $5,000 and up. Outstanding designs in homes has not been noticed. Virginia Raymond, home from the Army Nurse Corps after a tour of Arabia and the States is having a ranch style home constructed at Bay Shore near the Saykily and Herro cottages. Furniture is built into the house; there is no attic.

The Fence Company of America and Harnischfeger corporation have embarked on a housing program. The former will build several houses at the foot of South 14th street, and Harnischfeger has built pre-fabricated dwellings for two of its local officials.

Lumber Now Available
Lumber for construction is now available except for interior wall

finishing. Though some of the lumber is green still, the majority is aged to a certain extent. With the war-time curb of timber workings, it will be some time, according to the lumber dealers, before the heavy demand for wood products will allow proper curing of forest products.

Several pre-fabricated houses have been erected and possibility of more is considered obvious. Though they cost a little less, and are by far the quickest to erect, most prefer custom-built dwellings.

Monthly figures for building permits from the office of the city clerk appear as follows for 1946 and 1947:

	1947	1946
January	2,000	12,300
February	19,800	29,520
March	190,350	79,960
April	44,305	111,925
May	36,540	17,355
June	33,275	18,500
July	14,000	41,980
Totals	$340,560	$311,540

165 Permits Issued
So far this year about 165 building permits have been issued. These must be complied with in accordance with zoning and building ordinances of the city. Some 100 of the permits were for dwellings and business places, the rest for those repairs held up by war years.

In 1946, by the end of July, 218 permits had been tendered by the city clerk. In the remaining three months during which construction was at a brisk pace about 60 permits were granted. August of 1946 showed $38,575 in permits for construction. September of the same year, $97,225; and $32,900 in October.

Building in 1947 got off to a later start, yet at present the total valuation of the construction contemplated reveals that 1947 had more dollars of construction so far. If the trend continues, it may exceed by many thousands the dollars of construction recorded in 1946.

By way of comparison, the city of Marquette as of June 1947, listed construction in their city at $249,992 as compared with $311,165 through June 1946.

2 COWS KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Entire Herd Of Thirty Cattle Felled By Strike

Lightning, striking in at least three places in the vicinity of Escanaba during the brief electrical storm about noon yesterday, killed two Holstein cows and knocked down the remaining herd of 30 cattle at the Emil L. Moser farm at Danforth.

Mr. Moser's two sons, John, 23, and Harold, 26, who were about 350 feet away from the herd at the time of the strike, said the "lightning struck down the whole herd. We thought they were all killed. The dust was flying everywhere."

"As the dust settled, however, all of the herd except two cows got up."

The pasture is located about one quarter of a mile from the Moser residence. When the lightning struck, the men were walking toward their automobile to return to the house to escape the rain. The incident occurred about 11:30 yesterday morning. Mr. Moser was working on a bulldozer about half a mile away from the pasture when the lightning struck, he said. He has a 300-acre farm at Danforth.

About noon yesterday, lightning also struck a potato field at the Frank Barron farm at Carroll's Corners, damaging part of the crop. In another recent storm, it was reported, lightning struck the residence to visit with Mrs. Berger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Devet.

Barron farm at almost the same location. No buildings were damaged.

Perhaps the narrowest escape yesterday was that at the Arthur Monson farm at Danforth, about a quarter of a mile from Moser's place. Lightning there struck an apple tree at the corner of the Monson house.

No strikes were reported within the city of Escanaba, although electrical disturbances caused some fuses to be blown at the sewage disposal plant and five electrical current stoppages occurred about noon.

Driver Bound Over To Circuit Court For Drunk Driving

Floyd Johnson, 214 North 11th street, charged with driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor, second offense, waived examination in justice court yesterday and was bound over to circuit court. A bond of $300 was furnished and Johnson was released.

He was arrested by city police Sunday night after an automobile which Johnson was driving was implicated in a collision with a car driven by Leonard Nelson, of Cornell. The accident occurred at the intersection of 13th street and Third avenue north at midnight Sunday. Wilson was driving west on Third avenue north and Johnson was driving east on Third avenue.

Believes in Promoting Rural Health

Rural health is a great deal more than a discussion topic to the medical doctors of Michigan—it is a vital program that has their fullest support. This is evidenced in many ways, as will be brought out at the Michigan Rural Health Conference which is to be held at Michigan State College, September 18-19. Being one of the sponsors, Michigan doctors of medicine will utilize this Conference to search out the further avenues in which they can most practically enlarge their health services in Michigan's rural areas. This concern of organized medicine, and many other health organizations, with the health improvement of all the people of the State is one of the reasons why Michigan leads the way in health progress.

FOREST PLOT IS URGED HERE

Kluender Pledges Help
Of C&NW To Launch
Experiment

Establishment of an 80-acre experimental forest on the Escanaba ore dock project site was urged by W. A. Kluender, St. Paul forestry agent of the Chicago and North Western railway, in a talk at the meeting of the Escanaba Kiwanis club yesterday noon.

Mr. Kluender said the Chicago and North Western railway would cooperate with the city of Escanaba, Forest Service, state conservation department and other agencies in the planting of the forest, which he envisioned as a permanent experimental plot dedicated to the wood-using industries of the region. A similar demonstration forest was established last spring near Spooner, Wis., and attracted nation-wide attention.

The establishment of the forest, Kluender said, would provide an opportunity to demonstrate the use of the latest tree planting equipment. After the trees are planted, the forest would serve as a permanent experiment in timber land management. Kluender conferred with city officials yesterday, and it is quite likely that a portion of the 2,000-acre tract will be dedicated to forestry use.

Mr. Kluender gave an interesting talk to Kiwanians, and presented samples of various products that are being made from waste wood.

"It is said that 60 per cent of the tree is left to waste in the woods," the speaker said. Flooring made from the lamination of scrub oak, insulation, cellulose acetate and other wood products were displayed.

Mr. Kluender said that the Japanese early recognized the importance of America's forest resources to its war effort when it sent 10,000 balloons across the Pacific ocean with the intention to set fire to our western forests. The C. & N. W. railway is interested in forestry, he added, because it derives much of its frontage from the movement of wood products, and also uses about 120 million board feet of cross ties, switch and bridge ties, and rough lumber annually.

"Cross ties are steadily becoming harder to get," the speaker said. "The prices of ties are going up, and next to coal the cross ties the highest cost item in the operation of a railroad. There are more than 2500 patents on substitutes for the cross tie, but none as yet has been found useable."

TOM CLANCEY VISITING HERE

Former City Attorney
Recalls Early Days Here

Escanaba's streets would do credit to the finest cities in the country and certainly are in marked contrast with the sandy thoroughfares of the community's early days, Atty. Thomas H. Clancey of Panama City, Fla., said yesterday upon his arrival to spend his summer vacation in his home town. Mr. Clancey was accompanied here by his wife, the former Marian Selden, daughter of Samuel H. Selden, Chicago and North Western railway civil engineer, who supervised the construction of the first ore dock in Escanaba.

"Ludington street was filled with sand and stumps when I first came here and the wooden sidewalks were only eight to ten feet wide," Clancey said. "The sidewalks were about three feet above the street and quite dangerous. I remember when Judge Stone awarded a $3,000 judgment to one of my clients who fell off the sidewalk and was injured."

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Clancey came here from Paw Paw, Lower Michigan, in September, 1889. In November of the same year, he was elected prosecuting attorney. Later, he served as city attorney for 12 years.

"I was always in some controversy in my young days," Clancey chuckled. "I was a young fellow and took my job as prosecutor very seriously. I prosecuted several murder cases and sent the murderers to prison. Lumberjacks used to be found murdered between here and Ford River, but nobody paid attention to such crimes before I started investigating."

"It was one of the roughest and prosecuting every case."

Clancey recalled that Ludington street was paved with cedar blocks shortly after he came to town, and then several years later it was decided to pave it with brick.

"The contract was all signed with the brick company, but I organized a protest meeting at the city hall and the brick deal was off," Clancey said. "Menominee had paved a street with brick, and you could hear a wagon coming for a mile. We didn't want that kind of noise in Escanaba."

After the brick paving project was abandoned, it was decided to improve the street with asphalt.

Sigler Orders Inquiry

GOVERNOR SIGLER has acted wisely in calling upon the United States Public Health service to conduct a complete survey of conditions at the Pontiac state mental hospital.

Charges of brutality and other unwholesome conditions at the state mental hospital have been made, followed by counter-charges that everything is in order at the institution. From the conflicting statements that have been issued, the public has no way of determining whether the institution is being managed properly or not.

Gov. Sigler has called upon a neutral organization, the United States Public Health service, to ascertain the true facts and to make its report to the governor.

As the governor pointed out, "If anything is wrong I want to find out what to do about it. If not, I want all this ballyhoo stopped."

That's just about the way the people of Michigan feel about the situation, too. Let's have the facts, without political discoloration, and the sooner the better.

SAVE TREES (Milwaukee Journal)

Since the last legislature, as a result of action in the senate, refused to pass a bill to regulate the cutting of forest trees, private ownership has another opportunity to demonstrate that it can practice self-regulation.

That the continued reckless cutting of Wisconsin's remaining forest trees inevitably will denude this state is evident. Some restraints are vitally needed.

National controls long have seemed most desirable. State controls might have been invoked by Wisconsin in the absence of restraints imposed by Washington. Now that the state senate has refused to support even a mild measure to "keep Wisconsin green," the whole matter rests again with Wisconsin's forest industries.

Certain of the paper mills have organized Trees for Tomorrow, Inc., and have been conducting a conservation and restoration program for a number of years. The paper mills seem to be in earnest about their program. They really want to cover many thousands of acres with pulpwood.

As the paper companies do this, and as they interest others in helping them, they will, of course, expand one type of forest in Wisconsin. It will be largely a jack-pine and poplar forest, although containing other species of trees. It will be a low growing forest as compared with the towering pines, spruces and hemlocks that once grew on Wisconsin's northern acres. But it will yield a real forest "crop" in that it will be harvested selectively and annually, with new plantations replacing the old.

So it may be that the paper industry—and a few timber or lumber operators like the Goodman Lumber Co., which is practicing sustained yield forestry—will ultimately re-establish the state's forests. To do it they will need to exercise influence on heedless contract loggers and on those who are taking the last of the state's seed trees.

WHEN OUR BOYS WERE DYING (Milwaukee Journal)

Whether there was really any dirty business in the awarding of contracts for the Kaiser-Hughes air monster—or monstrosity—may not be too clear as yet. But the senate investigation has provided further insight into one phase of the wartime years—the lavish entertainment of government representatives by contractors and would-be contractors.

Mr. Hughes complains that the senate committee broke a promise by publicizing the details about his wine-women-and-whoopie parties for Washington big shots before it investigated the wartime entertainment of government officials by other plane manufacturers. Thereby he implies that his entertaining would look circumspect beside that provided by others. And perhaps it would.

But the stories about the Hughes parties, with champagne and bathing girls for the special benefit of top government men who might have something to say about letting a multi-million-dollar plane contract—like the stories about the dancing generals who were wine and dine at the expense of the notorious, free spending Garsons—have left the public fairly bug-eyed.

Those were the days when all patriotic civilians were supposed to be pulling in their belts and sacrificing to buy bonds, contribute to war drives and pay sky high taxes. And those were the days when America's sons were sweating it out where things were really hot—and dying—for a few paltry dollars a month. Meanwhile, men and women charged with the conduct of the war, paid out of the treasury, were enjoying luxuries and frivolities provided by contract seekers, who, in turn, could usually take the cost of the entertainment out of the public purse.

All right! Let's get to the bottom of this business. There should be no smearing but—Americans know who their war heroes were and they have a right to know who the villains were, too.

It's human to make mistakes, but it's a mistake to be too human.

WORDS TO WATCH

Overheard in a hospital corridor: "The doctor said it had something to do with her doo-ODD-uh-num." I doubt seriously that the doctor used that pronunciation for the word duodenum, although "doo-ODD-uh-num" is not uncommon among

Girl Scouts
Return From Clear Lake

Three Delta County Girl Scout troops returned Sunday from a week's camping trip at the U. S. Forestry Service camp at Clear Lake. There were 55 Intermediate Girl Scouts and ten adult staff members in the camping unit. The campers included two troops from Nahma, one from Rapid River and one from Gladstone. The Clear Lake camp, equipped and maintained by the Forestry Service, can accommodate 75 persons, and in living facilities and program material, exceeds the minimum Girl Scout standards for camping.

The entire week's activities and all plans were made by the girls themselves with the assistance of the staff. All staff members volunteered their services and both staff and girls cooperated on all activities, including preparation of food, serving, and program. This is the first time this type of camping was done in the county, and it was most successful and most enjoyable. This kind of camping supplements other camping and differs from Established camping and Day Camping in that it is entirely girl planned and the girls assist staff members in all work. There are no paid staff members.

Overnight Hike
Activities at the camp included an Overnight hike to Beaton Lake, which included 14 experienced campers and three staff members. Camp was set up and supper and breakfast prepared. There were cookouts off the camp site, Explanatory hikes with nose-bag lunch, Nature Hikes, Bird Hikes, Campfire Dramatics, Folk Dancing.

Four girls qualified to pass the Red Cross Junior Life Saving and two girls passed the Senior Life Saving.

Craft work included ceramics, chip carving, leathercraft, tin can craft and charcoal sketching.

This is the third Girl Scout Troop camp held this summer. Two Gladstone troops camped one week at Camp Wells, a Garden Troop camped five days at Goose Neck Lake and two Escanaba troops had an overnight Pioneer camping trip at Garth.

The staff members at the Clear Lake Camp were Mary Krutina, Nahma, director; Nell Fleming, Nahma, assistant director; Mrs. Calvin Cunningham, R. N., Gladstone, camp nurse; Miss Joyce Davis of Gladstone, certified Red Cross Water Safety Instructor in charge of water front activities; Mrs. Harold Switzer, dietitian; Helen Potvin, assistant dietitian; Mrs. Ray Gazley of Gladstone, nature study; Mrs. William Bergdahl, Gladstone, outdoor campcraft, and Mrs. O. S. Hult, Gladstone, handicraft.

FRIDAY WILL BE FARMERS' DAY

Plan Special Chatham Program Of Interest To Farm Families

Homemakers will find plenty of interest at the annual Farmers' Day program at the Chatham Experiment station on Friday, August 8. According to Opal Robertson, Marquette, home economics supervisor of the upper peninsula.

Miss Robertson is arranging the special women's program for the afternoon session and has announced that Rose Forno, foods and nutrition specialist, will discuss preparation of foods for freezing.

The increasing number of locker plants and home frozen food storage facilities in the Upper Peninsula has made information on the preparation of fruits, vegetables and meats for freezing the number one request of farm and city women alike.

This special program will be held in the afternoon. During the morning, women visitors will find interest in the fruit orchard and vegetable garden plot tours. The interest in gardens and fruit production in upper Michigan has caused many women to seek newer varieties and learn better production methods.

Since the women on Michigan farms have much to do with the handling of the farm flock, women visitors will gain much information from the poultry tour. During the morning, the station's method of getting early egg production from pullets will be shown. Visitors will also be able to see the summer laying house in actual use.

Families are invited to bring their own picnic lunches for the Farmers' Day program. Free coffee and milk will be provided visitors. A limited number of Miss Lorraine Laural Hoholik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoholik of Manistique, and John Dana Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Barrett of Port Huron, were married at 9 Saturday morning, July 26, at a double ring ceremony, celebrated in St. Joseph's Catholic church, Battle Creek, by the Rev. Fr. Adolph Oser.

The church was decorated for the wedding with ferns, palms and white gladioli. Mrs. Caroline Prude played the traditional wedding music. The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and she was attended by her sisters, both of Manistique, Mrs. Charles Weseman, who was matron of honor, and Mrs. Raoul Bertrand acted as bridesmaid. Robert Barrett was best man.

The bride wore an ivory lace gown, fashioned with a bertha collar and a flared peplum. With it she wore mits of matching lace and a finger-tip length illusion veil fastened with a coronet of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a white gold wrist watch, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a shower bouquet of white gladioli. Her matron of honor also wore white and carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations and wore a head band fashioned of the same flowers. The bridesmaid wore a pink gown and her flowers were white.

Mrs. Hoholik, mother of the bride, wore a black sheer crepe dress, a black and pink hat and a corsage of carnations. Mrs. Barrett, mother of the bridegroom, chose a white print dress with white and red accessories. Her corsage was also of carnations.

A breakfast at the Hart hotel followed the nuptial mass. Eleven guests were seated at the table which was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature flower basket. The table was further decorated with white tapers in crystal holders.

For her honeymoon trip to the northern peninsula, the new Mrs.

Barrett wore a powder blue suit and with it she wore brown lizard shoes and carried a matching bag. Her brown hat had a brown and white polka dot bow, and she wore a corsage of gladioli.

Mrs. Barrett is a service assistant at the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., in Battle Creek. Mr. Barrett was in the armed forces for four and one-half years and is now the B. F. Goodrich Co., budget manager of the Star Tire Co.

Out-of-town guests attended the wedding from Flint, Toledo, Minneapolis, and Brookway, Pa.

After a two weeks honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Barrett will reside at 30 E. Territorial Road, Battle Creek.

WILL IMPROVE
M-94 BAD SPOT

Sharp Turn And Steep Hill Will Be Abandoned

Elimination of a steep grade along with the straightening of Highway M-94 in Section 16 Hiawatha township, three miles south of the Alger county line, is now assured.

Official sanction to the improvement has been signed by the state highway department, the state division of bridges and the county drain commissioner, and advertisement for bids will be made in a matter of a few weeks.

Blueprints for the improvement call for the abandonment of the road which makes a sharp turn and steep descent at this point and the building of a road which will run absolutely straight. Cutting down of the hill and building up of the grade in the low spots over the swamp land which this section of the road traverses, will give this erstwhile dangerous stretch of highway an easy slope.

The rebuilding of this road will necessitate the construction of a new concrete bridge over Stuts creek which drains the swamp. Construction of this bit of highway has long been advocated as this hill, particularly in winter, becomes slippery and dangerous. The chief difficulty has been that motorists must make a sharp turn before ascending the hill and another sharp and blind curve must be negotiated at the top of the hill.

Cars Collide On Deer Street Sunday

Police at Gladstone served a motor violation ticket Sunday morning on Joseph Elinich, of Detroit, at the request of local city police after Elinich had failed to report an automobile accident.

Elinich's car collided with a car driven by John Barnes on Deer street about 7:15 Sunday morning. Elinich, according to police, passed the Barnes car from the right when the mishap occurred. The right front fender on the Barnes car was dented and there was also damage of a minor nature to the right rear door of that vehicle.

Miss Hazel Strom
At Health Center
In Port Huron

In a recent issue of the Port Huron Times-Herald, in which is featured the formal opening of the new physical therapy center in that city, Miss Hazel Strom, former public health nurse of Schoolcraft county, since leaving Manistique, took a post graduate course in physical therapy and is supervisor of the new Port Huron center.

She and William A. MacArthur, president of the St. Clair County Crippled Children's society, supervised the opening day reception and called attention to the modern equipment over which Miss Strom will have charge.

More than 40 children have been treated at the center, Miss Strom states. Three days she works at the center and the other three days she visits homes where the patients live. She says she hopes the center will in time provide occupational therapy as well.

Highways To Big Spring Are Open

The Manistique information center and local residents interested in popularizing the Big Spring have received numerous inquiries as to whether the road to the Big Spring has been reopened.

The answer, of course, is that the roads have never been closed. Old US-2 is open from Cooks to Manistique. The only road serving this purpose has been closed this summer is the one connecting the old highway US-2 with new highway US-2 at Thompson. This was closed for a time while a bridge was under construction, but is now open.

State Police Get
Their New Uniforms

Officers of the Manistique post, in common with those of state police in general, have streamlined their uniforms for the summer months. The new uniform for summer is French blue slacks, powder blue poplin shirts and sun helmets.

The shirt replaces the navy blue shirt formerly worn in the summer and may be worn under the blouse of the winter uniform as well.

Sgt. Kenneth White, commander of the Manistique Post, says it is the first time in the organization's history that slacks have been worn as uniform, the change being made because of the need for more comfortable summer uniforms.

The state seal insignia, worn on the sleeve of the shirt has also been changed, being much more noticeable than that on the dark uniforms.

More Blood Donors
Needed To Fill Quota

Although the deadline for registering to assist in the Delta county blood bank being sponsored by the county chapter of the Red Cross is only a few days away, only a few persons have registered to date.

Cards may be filled out at the state police post, Daily Press office, Delta Reporter or Walgreen drug store.

The blood bank will be held at Escanaba Aug. 11-15. Tuesday and Wednesday have been designated as Gladstone days.

Plasma which is processed from the blood received is placed under refrigeration and put away until needed in emergencies.

In addition to the potential aid which each donor gives in contributing a pint of blood the donor also receives something in return for they have their blood typed and this is of value in case they need a transfusion in a hurry.

State police were wearing their new dressy summer uniforms for the first time Sunday.

They consist of straight trousers of grayish blue with light blue stripe down the side of each leg, powder blue poplin shirts with navy blue arm shield bearing gold lettering "State Police" and the state's emblem, and topping it all are grey tropical hats.

Gone are the heavy breeches and puttees, jackets and regulation caps until winter. The winter uniform will be the same as in former years except that the present summer shirt will be standard.

Favorable comments on the new uniform were many and troopers all agree that from a standard of comfort they are a big improvement.

GEO. McEWEN
TELLS OF FHAEight Million Families
Aided By Plan, He Declares

An interesting word picture of how the Federal Housing Administration operates was presented to the Gladstone Rotary club yesterday noon by George McEwen, Escanaba, a fieldman for the FHA for the past 12 years.

Among the duties of McEwen are to check the valuation of properties upon which loans are desired and to check the compliance schedules on new building to see that it is being erected in accordance with pre-arranged plans.

The speaker said that the FHA did not loan a bit of money, merely guaranteed payment. Money is obtained through banks or building and loan associations.

A loan can be obtained with as little as 10 per cent down payment, providing the borrower has a good credit statement and sufficient salary to meet the payments.

On a loan of $5,000 to be repaid at $50 monthly, the borrower or home purchaser must be earning at least $200 monthly as the FHA will not approve payments running greater than 25 per cent of the monthly salary of the borrower. Payments must be such that they can be met without hardship.

During the 12 years that the speaker has

Vets, Bungalows, Utilities Win District Softball Championships

MILLS BOW TO VFW, 12 TO 7

Larmay's, Stonington
Lose In Tourney
Finals

An eight-run spurge in the last of the sixth enabled the Escanaba Veterans of Foreign Wars to erase a 7-4 deficit and trounce the Paper Mills, 12-7, in the Class A finals of the Escanaba district softball tournament at Memorial Field Sunday night.

In concluding their march to the district championship, the hardy Vets pounded out 15 hits that more than offset five errors. The Mills collected six safeties and committed only a trio of misplays.

It was simply a case of too much power at the bat for the veterans. All except Pitcher Kostitzky got at least one hit, and he performed his chores commendably on the mound in support of Paul Larson, Vet hurler credited with the win.

Mills Break Ice

The Mills broke the ice with a two-run rally in the second and added four more in the third to take a 6-0 lead before the Vets felt their oats and scored twice in the third. Each pushed across one counter in the fourth, and the Vets added another in the fifth before they brought the house down on the Mills in the sixth frame.

Gladstone's Bungalows manufactured six runs out of six hits to tie Larmay's, 6-3 in the Class B finals, behind the four-hit pitching of Verhamme.

The Class C championship went to Gladstone's Public Utilities with a 6-3 (no) triumph over Stonington. Second baseman Benard wielded the big stick in this fracas, collecting three safeties in four official times at bat.

In addition to the Vets and Paper Mills, the two other semifinalists eligible under U. P. association rules to compete in the U. P. championship tournament in Neegaunee are the Escanaba Taverns, beaten by VFW and Larmay's Bar of Gladstone, beaten by the Mills in the semifinals.

Club 314 Wins

Five teams in Class B are eligible for the U. P. meet. In the playoff for fifth place Sunday, Ensign beat Gladstone American Legion, 3-1, to win the sole remaining place.

Only three teams in Class C are entitled to compete in the U. P. affair. In addition to the finalists, Escanaba's Club 314 will compete, by virtue of its 10-3 conquest of Coco Cola in the third-place playoff Sunday.

Manistique Juniors Win Over Munising

LaPalomas Battle Bears Here Tonight

HAVANA LAPALOMAS
Cuban Winter League Latin-American Stars

The outstanding baseball attraction of the season will be presented in Escanaba tonight when the Havana LaPalomas of the Cuban Winter League meet the Escanaba Bears. The game will be played at City diamond, adjacent to the Escanaba athletic field, at 6:15.

Travelling with the Latin American LaPalomas is Ed Hamman, white baseball comedian whose side splitting baseball antics have delighted fans from coast to coast.

The LaPalomas lineup follows: Coco Ferrer, ss; Pedro Barrios, 3b; Leovigildo Lugo, lf; "Fato" Piga, c; Sloppy Lindsay, rf; Armando Vasquez, 1b; Andres Mesa, cf; Cheva Smith 2b; Juan Bennett, Juan Gordon, Dick Jackson, pitchers; Gib Noble, pitcher-outfield; John Huber, pitcher-catcher; Robustino Cariales, utility; and Ramiro Ramirez, manager.

Ramirez, one of baseball's wildest pilots, rates his current LaPalomas as superior to last year's team which won over 100 games on an American tour. The LaPalomas are sponsored by the famed Indianapolis Clowns of the Negro American baseball league.

Hamman's hilarious repertoire includes a generous heaping of sideline antics that require special props and gadgets, but his ballhandling feats are a show in themselves. He is one of the very few men who can whip a baseball behind his back from third base to first base with amazing speed and accuracy.

With the LaPalomas the clever comedian finds a natural setting for the Cuban leaguers, fun loving and peppery, delight in getting into Hamman's act, providing happy stooges for his antics. The LaPalomas are far superior to the Zulu Cannibal Giants who performed here two weeks ago.

PERKINS SHUTS OUT ROCK, 2-0

Aasen Allows Only 2 Hits, Scores One, Drives In One

Perkins, Aug. 4—Behind the two-hit hurling of Aasen, Perkins blanked Rock, 2-0, in a Bay de Noe league tilt here yesterday to remain undefeated in second half play.

It was a pitchers' battle the route, with Jokela, Rock moundsman, giving up only three hits all the way. Deloria and Richards sparked in the field for the victors, but it was strictly Aasen's day. He not only pitched the winner, but was responsible for both Perkins run, scoring the first one himself and driving in Sutela for the second with a sharp line drive to left.

The Rock-Perkins clash was one of the best games played here this season. Both sides fielded commendably, and spectator interest remained at a peak until the final out.

Perronville, Aug. 4 — The Perronville Juniors proved themselves the class of the new junior baseball league by annexing the fifth straight triumph without defeat Sunday at the expense of Ford River. The score was 10 to 1.

The victors collected 13 hits

Boxcar Shortages Delay Wheat Crop In Saginaw Valley

Saginaw, Mich., Aug. 4 (P)—An acute boxcar shortage is forcing delay in shipment of a bumper wheat crop from the Saginaw Valley Farm area.

A New York Central railroad official at Bay City said, "The situation is tight and no immediate relief is in sight."

A Grand Trunk railway official here said his company thus far was able to meet the situation, but he could not predict how much longer boxcars could be supplied and described the situation as serious.

The car shortage is forcing some rural elevators in the valley area to close up temporarily and refuse delivery of wheat from farmers.

At one elevator Monday 15 trucks were lined up, waiting for elevator operator to decide whether the grain could be accepted or stored on the individual farms.

Dam-Busters Land At Selfridge Field On Goodwill Jaunt

Detroit, Aug. 4 (P)—A flight of 14 Lincoln bombers of the Royal Air Force's famed Squadron 617 landed this afternoon at Selfridge field.

Known in World War II air history as "the Dam Busters" for their special missions that broke up the dams of the great German Moehne and Eder reservoir, the RAF officers and crewmen are on a nationwide goodwill tour.

The big RAF bombers were escorted to Selfridge field by six P-80's of the 56th Air Forces Fighter Group, and the 170 British officers and men were greeted by Col. William T. Hudnell, 65th combat fighter wing commander.

One plane of the group landed at Windsor, Ont., where the crew were guests of the city for the day.

On Thursday the RAF squadron will move to Saline, Kans. It will return to England Sept. 9.

Field Crash Kills Airman, Veteran Of 74 Combat Missions

Williams Field, Ariz., Aug. 4 (P)—Capt. Donald Stoddard, 28, of Twin Falls, Idaho, a veteran of 74 combat missions with the 9th air force in England, was instantly killed this morning when his A-26 medium bomber crashed on Williams field shortly after its take-off.

Three enlisted men in the plane with Stoddard for the routine training flight were also injured in the crash, two of them critically, Col. Frank H. Robinson, commanding officer of this army air base announced.

Critically injured are Tech. Sgt. William Samson, Ashville, Ohio; and Master Sgt. William S. Masters, Bloomington, Ind. Also injured was Master Sgt. Robert B. McKay, Huntsville, Ala. (ages unavailable.)

Cause of the crash is not known, Col. Robinson said.

The Steve Johnson and Richard Lundquist families motored to Gladstone Sunday to attend the birthday party of their nephew, Doniver Bjorklund at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bjorklund.

Sault Area Has Fine Airports

Sault Ste. Marie—Meeting the present and future demands of airmen and air travelers, Sault Ste. Marie and its three airports seem well destined to become the air center for Northern Michigan.

In the forefront of airports in the peninsula is the city-leased Kinross airport with three 5,520-foot concrete runways and a parking area of pavement 500 by 200 feet. This is one of two former U. S. Army airports constructed as a defense measure during the war. The runways are 300 feet wide.

At the present time this field serves two nations and ten commercial flights daily. Two nationwide airlines use it. The FCA-Capital Airline gives service connecting with Chicago and Detroit while the Trans-Canada Airline gives service through to the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

Another such airport lies west of the Sault at Racine. At the present time this field is on the Army's reserved list.

Anti-Jewish Riots Stir Up Liverpool; Fire Hoses Ready

Liverpool, England, Aug. 4 (P)—Anti-Semitic disorders broke out tonight in the Brownlow Hill district of Liverpool, a Jewish quarter, and five fire engines stood by ready to douse demonstrators with hoses if the situation got beyond police control.

Police arrested 20 persons, including a number of women, during the night.

It was Liverpool's fourth consecutive night of anti-Jewish demonstrations since two British sergeants were hanged by Zionists in Palestine.

Captain Of State Police Asked To Help Out In Tokyo

East Lansing, Aug. 4 (P)—Capt. Harold Mulbar of the state police identification bureau, confirmed reports today he had been invited to return to Japan to assist in the rehabilitation of the Tokyo police.

Mulbar said the requests came from the war department which sent him and Oscar G. Olander, former state police commissioner, to Tokyo for five months last year to assist General MacArthur's staff in training a new police force.

Mulbar said the request was being sent officially to Governor Sigler, but Sigler said he had not received it yet.

BRITAIN NEEDS MORE MONEY, CALLS ON U. S.

world problems as they affect Britain, Churchill hailed U. S. Secretary of State Marshall's proposal for aid to Europe and expressed the hope it would further his own personal dream of a United States of Europe. He denied that he hoped to divide Europe into two camps.

"It is true that an iron curtain has descended across Europe from Stettin on the Baltic to Trieste on the Adriatic," Churchill said. "We do not wish the slightest ill to those who dwell on the east of that iron curtain."

On the contrary, our prosperity and happiness will rise with theirs. "Let there be sunshine on both sides of the iron curtain, and if ever the sunshine should be equal on both sides, the curtain will be no more." ***

On Palestine, Churchill declared no British interest was involved in holding on to the mandate for the troubled Holy Land. He attacked the Labor government for giving up India and Burma.

He also charged Attlee's government with "wild financial extravagance," including what he described as the pouring of immense sums into the British zone of Germany, where "victory is changing fast into a sullen hatred not unmingled with contempt." Churchill declared the Laborites "misled the electorate" in Britain's general election two years ago with "a plethora of wild, lying promises and bribes and the creation of false illusions."

Paraguayan Rebels Capture Important Ports In Advance

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Aug. 4 (P)—Revitalized Paraguayan insurgent troops have captured a succession of important ports in their sweep down the Paraguay river toward the government-held capital of Asuncion, the rebel radio said today.

The Brazilian news agency Asapress quoted the insurgent radio as saying that 7,000 rebel infantrymen and 2,000 cavalry troops had captured Milagron, Ibaopo, San Pedro, Puerto Antequera, Puerto Roasaria and Villala Hayes—the latter only 20 miles north of Asuncion.

The reports of revolutionist success in the five-month-old civil war came as diplomatic sources here said efforts of Brazil and Argentina to mediate the Paraguayan war had failed.

The informants explained President Higinio Morinigo of Paraguay had refused to accept cessation of hostilities as a condition for mediation discussions.
